

BILLIONAIRES' ROW MANSIONS FOR SALE

Crash? What crash? This home could be yours for £40m

SPLASH OUT | Jersey House has a £40m price tag

STEVE MYALL
@thelondonpaper.com

PROPERTY prices in London may be plummeting, but that has not stopped estate agents from putting three "Billionaires' Row" mansions up for sale for £100m this week.

Jersey House, in The Bishops Avenue, Hampstead, went on sale for £40m. And in nearby Courtenay Avenue, The Mansion is on for £35m and The Villa for £25m.

Jersey House is a 19,000 sq ft mansion with eight bedrooms, cinema, pool, gym, sauna, and a panic room with private air supply.

The Villa has been called "a study in excess" with its seven bedrooms, nine bathrooms and staff quarters, while the eight-bedroom Mansion has a cinema and cocktail bar.

The houses are in an area popular with stars, such as Sting and George Michael.